

CRAFT BEER TOUR with DESTINATION CHINA

THE SHANGHAI SHUFFLE

STOP 1: LIQUID LAUNDRY

Starting at the Liquid Laundry, a popular gastro-pub which has a fully-functional brewery and up to a dozen fresh brews on tap. The names are as varied and interesting as the beers with favourites including the Puxi Patrol Porter, The Workday IPA, Mandarin Wheat and Sleepless in Saison. There are also some internationals to make up the numbers. While you are tasting a brew or two, we'll arrange some snacks for you such as wood fired oven pizza's and duck nuggets (a favourite with the regulars). If your guests really enjoy it they can come back at night when the crowd is bigger and the buzzing vibe of DJs playing "accessible hip hop and house" that heightens the atmosphere.

STOP 2: SHANGHAI BREWERY

Just a few steps around the corner and you are at the Shanghai Brewery... A completely different style of venue. This is also a popular micro-brewery, restaurant, and pub with in-house beers that include their Strawberry Lime Cider, People's Pilsner, West River Weizen, North Star IPA and Black Eyed Bear Stout. It can best be described as having a fusion of an art-deco and industrial chic in its design. For regulars, it is more of popular after-work hang out.

STOP 3: AUNTIE'S BEER HOUSE

Next is not a pub or a microbrewery but a bottle shop with personality - Auntie's Beer House-Haifu Convenience Store which you'll reach via a short metro journey from Shanghai Brewery. Zhang Yindi, the 52 year old owner who goes by the name "Auntie Beer" speaks very little English, but everyone seems at home here. By picking your international favourites you'll be able to compare them to the local brews you have experienced at the previous stops.

Copyright in this document belongs to Destination China and no part of it may be reproduced, copied or provided to third parties for any purpose or in any form whatsoever without the express written consent of Destination China.

CRAFT BEER TOUR with DESTINATION CHINA

STOP 4: TIME 12

Just a 5 minute walk from Aunties Beer House is the opportunity to soak up the beers with some delicious Chinese BBQ at Time 12. Hearing the name of shaokao, might be something new for foreigners, but is something we who live in China are very familiar with and that overseas Chinese and expats who have returned home miss a lot. Shaokao simply translated are Chinese skewers which can include anything from pork, chicken, lamb, fish to mushroom, vegetables and tofu... so you get to pair some local fare with the international beer of your choice - the perfect finale to your tour.

ENJOY THE VIEWS BETWEEN THE BREWS

Destination China's Craft Beer Tours are planned by walking and using public transport allowing guests to get a real city experience. In Shanghai there's an opportunity to enhance the tour by journeying on vintage motorbikes with sidecar - a great fun way to see the city. We can make the ride between your venues a short 15 minute trip, or a longer 30-45 minute ride taking in some of the local sites.

Copyright in this document belongs to Destination China and no part of it may be reproduced, copied or provided to third parties for any purpose or in any form whatsoever without the express written consent of Destination China.